

Practical activity ideas

Notes for the teacher – If your children need to review their learning, you can use these activities to support them.

Design a new settlement

The resources required for this activity include LEGO, DUPLO bricks or blocks, or natural materials and a design a settlement worksheet if required.

Activity: Children are to use the resources to design and build a settlement considering the different types of land use.

Land use debate

The resources required for this activity include the 'land use scenario cards' (see lesson resources).

Activity: Select a scenario, place children into different groups, either for or against the decision. Give children time to prepare, then encourage them to debate. Finally, conclude as a class which argument is the most compelling.

Land use matching game

The resources required for this activity include the 'land use benefits and drawbacks cards' (see lesson resources).

Activity: Children are to match each land use type with the benefits and drawbacks cards. Encourage children to discuss their choices.
